

Tourism Cultural Week

The week-long Mr and Miss Culture Pageant organized by students of the School of Tourism, Hospitality and Events Management (STHEM) of Moi University, climaxed on Friday September 28, 2018.

The event, which brought together eight contestants, several other models and winners of different pageants, students from the STHEM and other faculties along with the management of School, was graced by ladies and gentleman donned in varied cultural and traditional attire.

The contestants put their best foot forward on the runway, wooing the judges with their walk and attire across the different categories.

The audience was treated to a glamorous spectacle throughout the creative wear, African, intercontinental, Swahili and cultural wear categories of the Pageant.

As the models strutted along the catwalk, members of the audience treated themselves to the array of delicacies prepared by the students.

The emcees made the whole event memorable by constantly cracking the audience up with their humour.

The event, which kicked off at Annex, came to a close at Club Timba for the after-party.

Mr. Nelson Kuchia and Ms. Ruth Awuor, were crowned Mister and Miss Culture 2018/2019, respectively. Together with the First and Second Runners-up, they were awarded with cash prizes and gift hampers from Corporate sponsors.
